Appendix 4C Quarterly Report for March 2025 - Revised

Reference: Clarification to Appendix 4C March Quarter 2025 (released 23 April 2025)

Papyrus Australia Ltd (PPY) is providing clarifications and a revision to the March 2025 Quarterly Appendix 4C released to the market on 23 April, and particularly the treatment of R&D expenditure incurred by PPYeg on behalf of PPY.

- a. Nature of the treatment
R&D expenditure of $527k incurred and reported in the March 2025 quarterly appendix 4C at item 1.9. Payment for this expenditure was offset against the PPYeg loan account and hence was treated as a cash payment and accordingly reflected in the Appendix 4C.
- b. Reason for the amendment
This R&D expenditure was treated as a cash payment and was offset against the PPYeg loan account. This logic was based on the fact that if the invoice raised by PPYeg had been physically paid in cash and PPY had at the same time received a repayment from PPYeg of a similar amount in cash, then the treatment reflected in the lodged appendix 4C would have been correct.

Following discussions with the Company auditor it became clear that this treatment (i.e. offsetting the R&D expenditure against the PPYeg loan account) was not correct and should have been treated as a non-cash transaction and therefore not included in the March 2025 Appendix 4C. The amended Appendix 4C attached to this letter reflects the correct position after removing PPYeg expenditure from item no 1.9 and the PPYeg loan account reflected in item 2.6.
- c. List of Appendix 4C cashflow reports that are affected:
 - 1. Monthly Report February 2025 released on 27 March 2025
 - 2. Quarterly Report ending December 2024 released on 31 January 2025
 - 3. Monthly Report November 2024 released on 30 December 2024 and revised on 8 January 2025

- d. Table summarising net operating cash flow from operating activities and investing activities as stated Vs. correct amount in Appendix 4C lodged by PPY on MAP from December 2024 to March 2025
